(International News Service)

A world monetary and stabilization conference in the not distant future appeared likely today in the wake of the smoothly negotiated Anglo-French-American monetary agreement and the abandonment by France of the gold standard. From nearly every principal money capital came official word of readiness to participate in such a conference, and political and money leaders generally hailed the new three-power virtual stabilization as a boon to peace and prosperity. Of all the great nations a few years ago on the gold standard, only little Holland today remained determined to uphold the old formula of a currency base. Switzerland, it was decided today, will follow France next week, and Belgium, Italy, and Germany already had devalued currencies. Germany was watched closely, and from Berlin came word Chancellor Hitler and his economic advisors were willing to take part in a monetary conference. Italy was prepared to protect the lira in whatever developments may come.

Discuss Conference
New York, Sept. 26.—An international conference on currency stabilization was being discussed today by New York bankers following the French decision to devalue the franc, with the approval of the American and British governments. It was pointed out that the devaluation planned by the French government is to be followed immediately by an effort toward tripartite stabilization of the exchange between New York, London and Paris, and that the most effective way to accomplish this would be in a conference in one of the countries involved. Prior to a definite announcement of the extent of the French (Continued On Page Two)

SEE CURRENCY WAR END

(International News Service)
PARIS, Sept. 26.—Devaluation of the French franc at a glance:

WHY—Foreign drain on French gold, due to "flight from the franc" and falling French export trade, reduced franc's metallic backing and cut gold supply to the minimum needed in the event of war.

HOW—Gold content of franc to be cut from 65.5 milligrams to between 43 and 49 milligrams, like President Roosevelt reduced the gold content of the dollar.

France's Value To be between 4.5 and 5 cents. Was 4 cents before America went off gold; around 6.6 cents since then.

INTERNATIONAL EFFECTS—Stabilizes foreign exchange near figures before America and England devalued. Ends currency "war"; eliminates one of causes imperiling peace in Europe—but helps French export trade and dams French import trade, because foreigners can now buy French goods cheaper, and foreign goods are more costly in France.

World Monetary Stabilization Hope Of New Agreement

WASHINGTON, Sept. 26.—Paving the way toward world monetary stabilization, the United States, Great Britain and France today adopted a "gentlemen's agreement" fixing the value of the dollar, pound and franc in international exchange.

The agreement to place their currencies on a non-competitive basis was announced simultaneously last night by fiscal authorities in Washington, London and Paris coincident with the French government's decision to devalue the franc by 30 to 33 per cent. It culminated efforts of the three governments to avert a gold devaluation war, threatened by the French monetary crisis.

Climaxes Long Conference
Climaxing nearly a month of conferences with French and British officials, Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau disclosed this government's approval of France's decision and pledged cooperation with the two countries in preventing disturbances in international exchange resulting from the French currency readjustment.

Hailing the agreement as the "turning point for general peace in the world, Morgenthau invited every other nation to join the parade toward stabilization.

"The government of the United States, in common with the governments of France and Great Britain, desires and invites the cooperation of the other nations to realize the policy laid down in the present declaration," the secretary said. "It trusts that no country will attempt to obtain an unreasonable competitive exchange advantage and thereby hamper the effort to restore more stable economic relations which is the aim of the three governments to promote."

U. S. Gives Notice
In this statement, Morgenthau gave notice, however, that internal prosperity of the United States must not be jeopardized by the agreement.

"The government of the United States must, of course, in its policy towards international monetary relations, take into full account the requirements of internal prosperity as corresponding considerations will (Continued On Page Two)

WITNESSES ARE BEING CALLED AT UNIONTOWN

(International News Service)

UNIONTOWN, Pa., Sept. 26.—Seven county and city officials and many private citizens were ordered by Attorney Charles J. Margiotti today to appear before the September grand jury, hastily reconvened to hear evidence in the "third degree" murder of Frank C. Monaghan, 64-year-old hotelkeeper.

Plunging into the investigation after his appointment as special prosecutor by Gov. George H. Earle, the attorney general superintended the issuance of subpoenas to four physicians, three funeral directors, several county employees, three newspapermen and a former coal and iron police commander. Others were to be called later. Armed with summonses, deputy sheriffs fanned through Fayette today, recalling grand jury men for a session Monday.

OSHKOSH, Wis., Sept. 26.—Cheered by enthusiastic ovations across Wisconsin, stronghold of the LaFollette progressive movement, Governor Alfred M. Landon today resumed his journey toward Milwaukee for a smashing attack on the Roosevelt social security program and presentation of a Republican "common sense" plan for relieving old age and unemployment distress.

The Republican nominee was the smiling recipient of assurance from scores of state and local G. O. P. leaders that he would carry Wisconsin in November. He was told his new national farm relief program and pledge to revise the Roosevelt foreign trading agreements to protect American farmers would win him the northwestern.

Wins Repeated Applause

As his sunflower special rolled across the Wisconsin dairy lands, Landon time and again renounced the Roosevelt administration for "destroying the farmer's foreign markets while opening his domestic markets to foreign farm products." This accusation won him repeated applause. So too did his frequent assaults upon waste, absurdities and partisanship in the administration of federal unemployment relief.

PARIS, Sept. 26.—Tickers were silenced, foreign exchange suspended, and suppressed anxiety reigned in France today as the haughty franc, its golden backing perilously drained away, slithered slowly to the level of the lowly nickel.

Hampered by the clamorous protests of France's hoarding millions, who "salted away" nearly $4,000,000,000 in "socks," Premier Leon Blum and his financial advisors speedily proceeded, during the week-end's financial hiatus, with their program of devaluing the franc by from 25.2 to 34.3 per cent.

France's decision to "nationalize" gold puts her technically off the gold standard, although a steady basis for the franc is provided with a definite gold content for coins.

America And Britain Aid

American and British Exchange equalization millions stood ready to defend the franc against any panicky nose-dive, although official trading was called off in Paris and London, and a new era of international peace, freer foreign trade, and currency stability was seen by financial idealists in the end of the 18 years' currency "war."

Ten weeks of negotiation, then a dramatic midnight series of telephone conversations with Washington and London, led to a three-power accord terminating, for the time being at least, international monetary fluctuations, under a "gentlemen's agreement."

HYDE PARK, N. Y., Sept. 26.—President Roosevelt probed further into the political situation today as he rounded out his campaign plans for the final month's drive to election day.

Mayor Fiorello LaGuardia of New York, one of the leaders of the liberal group organized by the LaFollette of Wisconsin and others in behalf of the president's candidacy, has been invited here for report and suggestions on the task of rolling up a sufficiently large Democratic majority in New York City to offset what the Republicans will bring down from upstate.

Sample Lights Are Erected On North Street

Several new type of bracket lights, each of 1000 candlepower, have been erected on the south side of East North street between North Mill and East streets. Those who have seen the lights say they spread plenty of light.

The lights were installed as samples by the Pennsylvania Power company, as the result of agitation by business interests in North street which is to be widened between East and North Jefferson street.

Previously there were a few long arm bracket lights of 600 candlepower. However, the business interests requested council to have curb lights installed.

The company has no conduit at certain places and there are many telephone poles on the north side of North street, west of East street, hence the placing of the bracket, ornamental type of lights, now installed as samples.

Some time next week the Pennsylvania Power company officials will confer with North street interests and council, submit a proposal as to the cost and type of the lights for consideration.

TOLEDO, Spain, Sept. 26.—The rebel forces rushing to the aid of the besieged cadets in the Alcazar reached the outskirts of Toledo this evening.

Headed by the so-called "honor column," the rebels pulled up outside the gates of the city preparatory to a concerted attack against Toledo's leftist defenders.

The rebels, branching off to Toledo and delaying their march on Madrid mainly to free their besieged brothers in this historic Alcazar, reached the outskirts of Toledo after smashing their way through leftist ranks for the past week.

The leftists had stubbornly resisted the drive, falling back only after repeated battles. It was not clear immediately when the rebels would attempt to capture Toledo and penetrate to the besieged fortress, where young cadets and their wives and children have been trapped since July.

Madrid, Sept. 26.—Undaunted by a partially successful loyalist foray on the center of the rebel line at Maqueda, the insurgent Alcazar rescue column tightened its forceps on Toledo today, while Gen. Francisco Franco taking personal command at the front used his northern column to execute a daring movement to cut off the Madrid forces.

Crisp "bootlegged" rebel radio reports, crackling cheer into the dank catacombs of the Alcazar and into secret receivers in Madrid, brought claims of a five mile rebel advance on the Toledo road.

HALT EXCHANGE DEALINGS

Few Quotations Are Obtainable

Boom In Dollar Apparent, Particularly Against Pound Sterling

NEW VALUATION FOR FRENCH FRANC GIVEN

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Sept. 26.—Decision of France to devalue her currency paralyzed world foreign exchange markets today. Dealings were halted and the few quotations obtainable were nominal, indicating the trend rather than actual dealings.

A boom in the dollar was apparent, particularly against the pound sterling which at one time was quoted at low at $4.90 here and in London against yesterday's close of $5.01.

The tumble in the pound, following weakness yesterday, overshadowed the rest of the exchange list where the franc was nominally quoted here at 5 cents, the bids heard were from 4.42 to 4.60 cents.

Under the terms to be presented to the special meeting of the French parliament on Monday, the new franc parity will range 25 to 34 percent under the old rate. This would make the new franc 4.24 cents, against yesterday's 5 cents and its parity against the 50-cent American dollar was 6.63 cents.

be taken into account by the governments of France and Great Britain," he asserted.

"If this agreement affects in any way our internal prosperity we will take the proper steps."

This was taken to mean that the United States would further devalue the dollar. Under existing law, the president can reduce the gold content of the dollar to 50 percent of its former value. He has already reduced it to 59.6 percent.

Establish Better World Relations

Although the franc devaluation is subject to ratification by the French parliament next week, Morgenthau joined with the British in "welcoming" this step and expressed the hope that it will "establish more solid foundations for the stability of international relations."

The three governments have agreed to utilize their stabilization funds as a safeguard against any disturbance of the basis of foreign exchange which might be brought on through lowering the franc. Tripartite conferences will be arranged if such situations develop. The United States at present has about $1,800,000,000 in its stabilization fund.

Morgenthau emphasized that peace and revival of world trade will be the direct outgrowth of currency stabilization.

"Stabilization of world currencies is the foundation that has to be built first before we can look forward to lasting peace and real recovery in world trade," he said.

Far Reaching Step
The agreement among the United States, England and France is the most far-reaching in the financial history of the world. The basis for peace is economic security which can be brought on by a stable currency. If a nation's money is unstable, it is in a vulnerable position.

Contending that devaluation of the dollar has brought economic gain to the United States, Morgenthau said he saw no reason why France or any other country that lowers its currency value should not reap the same benefits.

"It is only natural that their trade will expand and there will be less risk in selling from one country to another," he added. "In such a revival of world commerce, the American will get his share."

Possibility that the three-power stabilization agreement eventually will result in abolition of trade quotas between the countries was contained in Morgenthau's statement.

"The government of the United States attaches the greatest importance to action being taken without delay to bring progressive stabilization of currencies and exchange controls with a view to abolition," the statement said.

Morgenthau declined to amplify this phase of the agreement except to say "the other countries wanted it in." None of the trade pacts consummated by this country are affected by the agreement, he declared.

Lowering of the franc's value by nearly a third will make it equivalent to approximately five cents. The current rate has been about 15 francs to the dollar. The British pound will be worth about 100 francs, compared with the present rate of 77 francs.

Recess Appointment

President Roosevelt took care of one of his administrative problems when he announced that Acting Secretary of War Harry H. Woodring had been given a recess appointment as secretary, "temporarily filling the vacancy caused by the recent death of Secretary George H. Dern."

It was not anticipated, however, that Woodring, who was Democratic governor of Kansas just before Governor Alfred M. Landon, would remain permanently in the cabinet post.

and ankle wrenched and four teeth knocked out.

Blame Fog
According to the statements of the two young men in the Jameson Memorial hospital today, they had gone to Hillside with their truck for their employer, a Mrs. Paul Baker. With the line on board they started for Mercer to deliver the lime to a farmer.

The Carbon crossing is a double crossing. Two tracks of the B. & O. are separated from the four tracks of the P. & L. E. by a narrow space. When the truck drove up to the crossing a B. & O. freight was passing and the driver of the truck, Brockhurst, pulled his truck over the P. & L. E. tracks into the narrow space between the rights of way.

The truck stood there for a short time. Brockhurst said it might have been a couple of minutes. Suddenly out of the fog the head light of P. & L. E. No. 7 loomed up not a hundred feet away according to Wimer.

He yelled to Wimer to pull the truck up but there was little space for this as the B. & O. freight was still passing over the crossing. In an instant the passenger struck the rear end of the truck throwing Wimer out and pinning Brockhurst under the overturned truck.

Knocked Out

Both of them were knocked out although Wimer said as he laid in between the tracks he remembers the roar of the wheels of the train. Some unknown motorist came along and picked them up, bringing them to the Jameson Memorial hospital.

Both Wimer and Brockhurst claim the passenger train sounded no whistle or bell and that the crossing is protected only by a warning sign, no bells or gates being there. Wimer also claims that the train did not stop.

The train record in Youngstown shows that the train was delayed one hour and fifteen minutes on account of the wreck. When the train pulled into Youngstown it looked like a Christmas tree covered with snow, observers said.

Neither of the men appear to be seriously hurt, but x-rays are being taken to be certain there are no internal injuries.

devaluation, leading New York bankers who deal in foreign exchange were unwilling to be quoted regarding their views on the spectacular move of the Blum government—looked upon here as the most important event in international finance since Great Britain left the gold standard and the United States government undertook a controlled form of internal monetary control.

French interests are known to have large holdings in this country, but in stock exchange circles it was not believed that there would be any rush to withdraw funds to France. Although the Paris bourse will be closed as a safeguarding measure during the period of excitement arising from the alteration in the external value of the franc, it was not thought that it would be necessary to close the New York Stock Exchange, as was done in 1931 as a result of the situation which developed from the abandonment of the gold standard by Great Britain.

Call Off Dealings
London, Sept. 26.—To prevent a disastrous "raid" on Dutch and Swiss gold, the London Stock Exchange today called off all dealings in foreign exchange and gold bullion, while London financiers, calmly surveying the situation, hailed the French devaluation decision as "one of the few positive contributions to world reconstruction made by governments for a long time."

Sweeping results were seen in "The City," where an international conference to negotiate international monetary and economic agreements was envisaged for 1937.

To Organize For Situation

Central banks in Holland and Switzerland, the last countries remaining on the gold standard, requested the suspension of foreign exchange trading for fear of a drain on their resources before they can organize to meet a possible onslaught.

The week-end of financial grace enables Amsterdam and Zurich to take stock and adopt possible restrictions for the trade in which financiers here believe will be inevitable.

Press comment in London was favorable to the French decision especially in view of America's and Britain's cooperation to prevent any panic. All eyes were turned on the foreign exchange market on Monday, only to be met with the announcement that dealings were off, and that, at the request of the Bank of England, there would be no quotations on gold bullion.

Refuse Quotations

London banks refused to give even nominal quotations for dollars and francs, bringing even "street" trading to a halt. Some banks charged small dollar checks at the nominal rate of $5 to the pound for old customers, but the majority of Americans, especially tourists, had to borrow sterling from friends to tide them over the week-end.

In what little trading in France there was unofficially, French units ranged from 110 to 117 to the pound, compared to yesterday's official close of 77 1/2.

Prospects for another international economic parley were enhanced when it was learned today that Montagu Norman, chairman of the Bank of England discussed the possibilities on his last trip to the United States.

Dr. Hjalmar Schacht and Dr. Leonard Trip, respective heads of the German and Dutch banks. Also investigated the feasibility of a conference in Paris.

columns to sverve southward from the Escaione road and dig into the leftist lines southwest of Madrid. The attack on strategic Maqueda, which followed the release of Albarche flood water, has been repelled, according to the rebels.

Planes Bomb Bilbao

Killing 130, four rebel airplanes carried out Gen. Emilio Mola's threat to bombard Bilbao and started several fires, causing heavy damage. The defending loyalists thereupon executed a number of hostages who had been lined up on the border of the town as a living wall of defense.

Fresh drama and a new spur to the rebels came today with the Madrid announcement that Senorita Rosario De Liano, sister of the famous insurgent general, Queipo de Liano, was arrested in the capital, and pleaded with her captors for immediate execution.

Gen. De Liano was aware of this, but over the Seville radio his voice, cheery as ever, came today with the claim that the rebels were "less than four miles from Toledo."

He said he refused to believe reports that the women and children in the battered, scorched Alcazar had been evacuated.

"The Nationalists will be inside Toledo within a few hours," he proudly predicted.

The word that the women in the Alcazar had at last emerged to safety, following repeated refusals, came from the radio station in Tetuan, Morocco.

Not only was this untrue, said the insurgents today, but the defenders of the Alcazar made a sortie and captured a large quantity of arms and ammunition from the loyalists, then returned in safety to the underground recesses of the old moorish citadel.

of taxes the national administration is imposing and are trying to keep the public in ignorance about these taxes, but we will not be deterred."

Attorney General Cummings was quoted as saying the federal statutes provide a fine of $1,000, one year in jail, or both, for any one convicted of making statements intended to lead persons to believe that any part of the article's price consisted of a federal tax.

"Why, he'd have to close up every gasoline station in the country," declared Fletcher. "Every time you go into a gasoline station you read signs explaining the cost of gas, the amount of the state tax and the amount of the federal tax."

Refers To False Statements Fletcher emphasized that section

1,445, title 26, of the federal statute referred to penalties for "false" statements regarding taxes. He quoted from this law:

"... ascribing a particular part of such price to a tax imposed upon the authority of the United States, knowing that such statement is false or that the tax is not so great as the portion of such price ascribed to such tax."

Fletcher then said: "There will be no false statements issued by the Republican national committee. But we will not be stopped from telling the truth, as long as our statements are correct, there can be no violation of law and therefore no prosecutions. 'Make this statement as strong as you want.'"

Why follow Europe's example? Other animals needn't bite themselves because a trapped animal does.

FAREWELL PARTY FOR JAMESON HOSPITAL CLASS

Eight student nurses of the senior class at Jameson Memorial hospital were honored at a beautifully appointed dinner party held Thursday evening in a prominent tea room downtown. The occasion was in the form of a farewell for the group, who will leave September 30 for six months' affiliation at the Philadelphia General hospital.

The tables, marked for 17 guests, were arranged in "U" shape, and a color theme of pink and blue predominated in the details. Pink rose buds formed the centerpiece and clever cards marked the honored guests' places, with pink ribbon streamers attached which led to two large containers placed at either end. Inside were concealed a gift for each senior student, conveying good wishes and tokens of friendship from the intermediate class, who presided as hostesses.

BALDWIN CLASS ENJOYS TRAVELOGUE

A delightful innovation in the way of regular programs was offered members of the Baldwin class, numbering around 65 Friday evening, in the assembly room of Highland U. P. church, prettily decorated for the occasion with fall flowers.

Miss Bertha Rhodes, who traveled to Europe the past summer, gave an informative travelogue, interest in which was considerably heightened by a musical arrangement in connection with it by Mrs. June Bernard, assisted by Mrs. R. L. Wallace.

The program was divided into four parts to represent the four countries in which Miss Rhodes spent most of her time, and previous to her description of each, musical numbers were rendered.

Beginning with the first foreign country visited, Miss Julia Ferguson played a piano number entitled "France" which led into a description by the speaker of that country and its interesting places of particular interest.

From there, the audience was taken in imagination to Italy, after which had introduced the second country with music entitled "Italy," Venice with its wonderful music, was pictured by Miss Rhodes, and there was a trio number, "Sante Lucia," sung beautifully by Mrs. Bernard, Rev. D. L. Ferguson and Leonard Kishart.

North into Switzerland, to the next stop, the travelers journeyed, seeing snow capped mountains, gorgeous scenery, lakes and picturesque buildings, and pictures of this country is also noted for its skaters, and appropriate song, "The Skaters' Waltz," portrayed the ice gliders skimming over the frozen lakes. Jean Allen contributed this musical part to the entertainment and with bells on her wrists, a decidedly unusual effect was created.

The last country visited by Miss Rhodes was England, and her talk centered around London. She told of the beautiful scenery there, the rivers and famous places of historic record, and to complete this part of her trip, a duet, "Flow Gently Sweet Afton," was sung by Grace and Ellen Miles.

The entertainment was one which will long linger in the memories of all the guests, the subject itself, always of interest to us stay-at-homes, being unusually so with Miss Rhodes, a brilliant speaker, portraying her description so vividly, and enhanced by appropriate musical settings adding variety and additional pleasure.

Light refreshments were served following the program by a committee headed by Mrs. James L. Vogan, who together with Mrs. Bernard, Mrs. M. M. Ingham and others who lent valuable assistance for this first fall meeting, deserves hearty commendation for inaugurating a worthwhile season of activity.

It has been decided to change the regular meeting night to Thursday hereafter. The October meeting will be dispensed with altogether, the next regular meeting taking place in November.

A TRAFFIC JAM TO TEST HER TEMPER

WORKING on the theory that the best guide to a man's character is the way he drives his car, the American Automobile Association has issued this helpful hint to prospective brides: "If you really want to know your future husband's mind, let him drive you through a traffic jam." A half-hour drive, it is asserted, will bring out the state of a boy-friend's manners, sportsmanship, temper, nerves, timidity and tendency to fatigue—covering a great deal of psychological territory in thirty minutes.

It is doubtless true that many a latent trait of character is brought to the surface by bad brakes, scraped fenders and the blunders of the fellow in the car ahead. If the traffic jam theory of character-testing holds good for men, however, it should be equally good for women.

All a young man should need to do, in other words, in order to find out what kind of a temper, nerves, manners, etc., a girl he admires has, is to let her drive through a traffic jam—provided, of course, he lives through it.

HOME IS BEST

Poets and philosophers have always celebrated the joys and benefits of the home scene. Said Oliver Goldsmith, famous English author, "Such is the patriot's boast, where'er we roam, his first, best country is at home."

If people don't feel after wandering around more or less, that their home town is the best place on earth, they are exceptions. Their home town may not have the advantages found in larger cities. But it does or should give them the advantages found in intimate friendship, and a chance to earn a living. When you have the means of livelihood, and friends with whom to share your joys and sorrows, you have the best things life can give, whether you live in Timbuctoo or in a remote hamlet in the U. S.

BE CALM AND SWEET

In phrases sweet as the honey of Hymettus President Roosevelt pleads that the issues of the campaign be not "determined in rancor or temper instead of by calm deliberation and clear thinking."

Let this be a warning to critics of the New Deal. If any man is tempted to strong language when he remembers the broken promises of the Roosevelt administration, let him leap under a cold shower. If he believes in a balance of government which includes the Supreme Court as one of the three departments, let him not recall the remark about "horse-and-buggy days" lest his face get red. If he is offended by references to "economic royalists" or finds himself unfairly classed with "intrenched greed," let him remember that these phrases are the result of "calm deliberation and clear thinking."

Away with rancor and temper! Lessons in the art of serenity and sweet reasonableness may be obtained from the speeches of General Johnson, Secretary Ickes, Jim Farley, Harry Hopkins &c.—New York Sun.

FIRE PREVENTION WEEK

Next month, from October 4 to 10, Fire Prevention Week is to be observed again. The week was first declared an official national event by President Wilson, and succeeding presidents have followed suit each year.

Simple programs have been outlined for observing the week. For example, it is suggested that owners and executives make thoroughgoing inspections of their plants in order to find and eliminate fire hazards. The aid of workmen should be enlisted, and the necessity for fire prevention and the wisdom of practices that reduce the chance of fire, such as "No Smoking" during factory hours, should be impressed on them.

In the matter of home fire prevention, every person can easily do worthwhile work. Go over your house from cellar to roof. Has the heating plant, which will soon be called on to operate at high capacity, been expertly inspected and, if necessary, repaired? Is electric wiring in A-1 condition? Are inflammable liquids properly stored? Does household equipment using electricity, gas or gasoline bear the approval label of the Underwriters' Laboratory? Have you permitted rubbish, old clothes, old magazines, etc., to accumulate in closets and out of the way corners?

Do your part during Fire Prevention Week.

Back To Dear Old Pittsburgh

From The Philadelphia Inquirer

Candidate Roosevelt is to make his widely touted first "real campaign speech" of 1936 at Pittsburgh next Thursday night. The date suggests another of those many Rooseveltian "coincidences" that have been bobbing up during the last few months. For it was in October, 1932, that Mr. Roosevelt made at Pittsburgh one of the classic speeches of his campaign. It was commonly quoted for long after as "the Pittsburgh speech."

This address contained some unforgettable words and phrases that still stick in the public memory, although their author has seemed to forget that they were ever uttered. "Taxes are a burden on production. They are paid in the sweat of every man who labors." "Our workers may never see a tax bill, but they pay."

Then there was that ringing denunciation of "Federal extravagance and improvidence." The audience was stirred to cheers when "the unprecedented magnitude of our Federal deficits" was given an oratorical beating. "One of the most important issues of the campaign" was defined as "reduction in Federal spending." In Candidate Roosevelt's opinion, it was "the most effective and direct contribution that Government can make to business." And his eloquent peroration wound up

When a woman announces that she is "at home," she usually expects her guests to stay from a half-hour to an hour.

DON'T WRITE THAT LETTER!

David Seabury has written a fat book about worrying successfully. In it he gives you many suggestions about when to worry, when not to worry, how to make worrying sit up and do useful tricks.

He says those who worry are full of peevishness and they hold those peevishness in until they become sick. Don't ever do that, says Mr. Seabury. Don't let peevishness collect in your mind. Get them out of your system.

How are you going to get a peevish out of yourself?

The one way, says he, is to let it explode. But not in public. Treat it as though it were a bomb and take it outside or away from other human beings. Punch a bag or a pillow. Whack a stone with a stick. Retire to your room and talk aloud. All by yourself, if you wish, "cuss" the person you don't like. Or lie down flat on your back for half an hour and relax. Or, "sit down and write a letter to whoever angered you. Tell him just what you think. Then tear the letter up and burn it."

All very good advice, except that, but about writing a letter and NOT sending it.

That's very dangerous business. Just how many human beings, after they have gone to the trouble of speaking out their spleen on paper, of exploding in written words, can resist the temptation to SEND IT.

My idea is that if you MUST write a letter to your enemy, lie on your back and write it in your mind. Make it a good one. Make it a hot masterpiece. Go into details. Insult him lavishly. Sign it with a wholly imaginative flourish. But don't get out the ink bottle and DON'T put word on paper. That's fatal. Too many people think there's a law compelling them to send a letter once it is written. If you write a letter, the odds are 50 to 1 you'll send it.

I know!... Whenever I've imagined an explosive letter, I've never taken the trouble to send it. But whenever I actually wrote one, I've ALWAYS sent it—and been sorry ever after.

THE TEST

He wondered what his life could mean.

And just what purpose he might serve.

What pride and satisfaction glean.

What word of praise he might deserve.

He could not think that God had meant

A man with gains to be content.

He doubted strength and doubted skill.

Since gifted men are very few,

God would not ask the weak and ill.

The tasks of rugged men to do.

No father wise would ask a son,

Born lame, 'gainst faster men to run.

He wondered oft: Do mortals know

Just what success and failure are?

Because the planets brighter glow

Does God condemn the lesser star?

Does any standard known on earth

Precisely measure human worth?

And then he made his mind to this:

To do the task he found at hand.

Saying, "Though greater goals I miss,

Perhaps the Lord will understand.

Who gives to life his utmost best

May meet mankind's supreme test.

What Noted People Say

LOS ANGELES... Evangelist Aimee Semple McPherson minimizes the departure of her daughter, Roberta Semple, from the Angeleno Temple paragonage.

"I myself spend very little time there because it is quite a busy, noisy place and it is impossible to get rest there."

CHICAGO... President Robert M. Hutchins greets University of Chicago freshmen with a pessimistic note.

"The world seems to be rushing toward the destruction of liberty of conscience, of worship, of speech, and of thought... toward abolition of those processes which have accounted for the advance of civilization."

NEW YORK... Gregory Ratoff tells reporters how happy he is to be an American citizen:

"Boyz... now I can vote. Maybe it took fourteen years, my friends, but now I am a janunive American. Lets get a drink, boyez!"

SAN FRANCISCO... Harry Bridges, Union longshoreman's leader, comments on the expiration, Sept. 30, of working contracts: "We are proceeding on the supposition there will be trouble."

TODAY'S STORYTELLER

He has joined a golf club and on his first round hit the ball a mighty swat, and by some miracle it landed in the hole in one.

At the second tee came another miracle. Again he did the hole in one, and as the ball disappeared into the cup, he turned around white and trembling.

"Goah!" he breathed trembling.

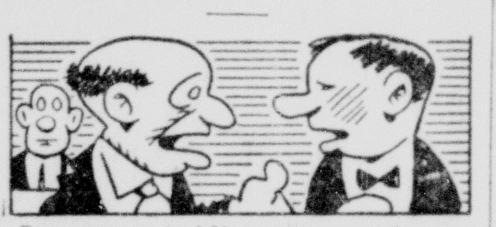

"I thought I had missed it that time."

The airplane today is about all that has been expected of it in war. This has been demonstrated in the past few years and it ought to be thoughts of war out of the minds of people of all nations. Those things can be even more scandalous in action than they are if they are not curbed.

Rufus—Goofus, do you believe in ghosts? Goofus—No, sir! I woke up one night and saw one in my room. I asked him what he wanted and he said "nothin'." Next mornin' I found he'd stole my Sunday pants. Since then I don't believe in ghosts at all. They ain't reliable.

The new king of England is and always has been a great admirer of American women. He can come over here and get an all ready made queen as all our gals are born queens and we don't have any better over there who get the title afterwards.

No "RELIEF" FOR HIM

In the soft firelight, even the boudoir-house sitting-room looked cozy and attractive. The warmth and comfort thawed out the heart of the star boarder, Oscar H. Sidebottom. In a moment of exuberance he turned to the landlady, Mrs. Noodles, who was his only companion in the room. Clapping her calloused hand fondly and stealing his arm partially around her oversize waist, he murmured: "Will you be my wife?"

The woman did not start nor blush. No maidenly coyness shone in her clear, cold, hard-boiled eyes. Her heart-beats didn't increase even so much as one beat a minute. Calm and cool as one of her own home-grown cucumbers, or "cukes," as she called them, Mrs. Noodles thoughtfully and slowly re-

We read where a credit organization was adopting the plan of giving credit to men on their ability to pay and the amount of their income instead of giving credit on their past records. That means forgiving a lot of debts with the hope of getting paid in the future. The old reliable cash on delivery cannot be beaten in many cases.

Any farmer who heard Gov. Landon's farm speech can be satisfied to stay on the farm. In fact some city folks who heard it want to go on a farm. You know everything we have started on the land and you can bet we will have to go back to it.

A TRAGEDY

Probably this tragedy has happened to others and it may happen to you, so you had better read this item right to the end.

The lady drove to a part of the city where she thought she ought to look her car while she did some shopping. When she returned, the key refused to turn the lock. A passerby tried to help her, but succeeded only in breaking the key in the lock.

She telephoned to a repair-shop for assistance and when it came the man said he would have to take out the lock. This was a difficult job; in fact, after an hour's work he telephoned the shop to send a towing car. While the cars were being hooked together, someone idly tried the handle of the door near the driver's wheel. It was unlocked!

The governess employed to mind the children generally finds it works just the other way round.

The more people that hear Gov. Landon, candidate for president of the United States on the Republican ticket, the more want to vote for him. There never has been such a candidate for president in this country for a long time.

Conference Will Open On Monday

Initial Session Of Alliance Church District Conclave At 7:30 P. M.

CHURCH PRESIDENT FORMER LOCAL MAN

With a short business session and a worship service the annual conference of the Christian and Missionary Alliance, eastern district, will get underway Monday evening at 7:30 o'clock in the Second U. P. church of this city. The conference, which will bring ministers and lay delegates from Pennsylvania, Maryland and Delaware, will continue through the following Friday. Dr. H. M. Shuman of New York City, president of the Christian and Missionary Alliance, is scheduled to preach on Monday and Tuesday evenings, and because of the fact that he is a former New Castle minister, the addresses are being awaited with great interest here. All of the evening meetings are to be open to the public and will be conducted in the Second U. P. church, whereas the daytime meetings will be in the Alliance church, Pearson street.

It was during Dr. Shuman's pastorate here, about 25 years ago, that the Pearson street church was built. He has been president of the Alliance for some years now and recently made a tour around the world, visiting the many points where the Alliance missionaries are carrying on their work.

It is likely that a number of conference committees will be named at the Monday evening meeting. The morning session on Tuesday will open in the Pearson street church at 9 a. m. All meals, both day and night, will be served in the Epworth M. E. dining room. The delegates who may number about 200, will be entertained in the homes of the local congregation.

Rev. S. W. McGarvey of Williamsport, Pa., eastern district superintendent, will preside at the business meetings. Dr. R. R. Brown of Omaha, Neb., superintendent of the western district, will preach on Wednesday night.

This is the first time the conference has been conducted in New Castle; never before has the district convened at a point so far west.

The Everlasting Gospel Church

The Everlasting Gospel church, 923 Croton avenue, opposite Harding street, will observe the day of atonement from Friday evening sundown to Saturday evening sundown as recorded in Leviticus 23. The tenth day of the seventh Bible month Tizri, also called Ethanim I Kings 8:2, in God's calendar from Abib to Adar Exodus 12:1, 2, 13:4, Ezra 6:15. This holy day begins this Friday evening sundown September 25 to 26, Roman calendar time, also called Gregorian calendar, which was revised in 1582 when Pope Gregory cut 10 days out of the month of October. England and America adopted it in 1752. But God's calendar of days and weeks and months and years never change. For that reason we observe this most holy day on the tenth day of the Bible seventh month Tizri, also named Ethanim in the Power prayer room on Croton avenue. The 24th day of March fell on the Bible New Years day, making the month of God's Bible year and the tenth day of the month the holy day of atonement. The following names are the entire twelve months of God's Bible year. Abib, Exodus 12:1, 2, 13:4; Zif, I Kings 6:1; Sivan, Esther 8:9; Tamuz, Jer. 52:6; Ab, Ezra 7:9; Elul, Neh. 6:15; Tizri or Ethanim, I Kings 8:2; Bul, I Kings 6:38; Chisleul, Zech. 7:1; Tebeth, Esther 2:16; Sebat, Zech. 1:7; Adar, Ezra 6:15. Free literature and Bibles in all known languages, all seats free, no collections, everybody welcome. Bible prophecy teaching, prayer, every day at 2:30 p. m. daily in the Power Prayer Room, conducted by home missionary minister of the Everlasting Gospel church, superintendent manager of the Castle Hill Mission Bible House, Vine street, Mrs. Winifred, secretary; Mrs. Alice M. ## Woodring New Secretary Of War Department

Appointment Of Assistant To Late Secretary Dern May Be Only Temporary

(International News Service) WASHINGTON, Sept. 26.—President Roosevelt's cabinet was again filled today. Promotion of Harry W. Woodring to be secretary of war filled the vacancy created by the death of George H. Dern. Woodring had been assistant secretary.

The expectation prevailed in Washington, however, that Woodring's tenure will not be of more than several months' duration. President Roosevelt's announcement of the appointment from Hyde Park indicated it was a temporary one, to last until after election.

Number of Changes. Washington generally expects to see a number of cabinet changes about the first of the year, in the event Mr. Roosevelt is re-elected. Several members of the present cabinet are expected to retire in that event, to make way for new faces.

Originally President Roosevelt had intended not to fill the war department post until after election, but it was discovered that a provision in the law made filling the vacancy necessary within the 30-day period after Dern's death.

Woodring, a former Democratic governor of Kansas, issued a statement upon taking office asserting he would follow his predecessor's policies, and pledging himself to work unceasingly for adequate national defense.

Says Library Board Made Fine Bargain

"A number of months ago a member of the library board asked me what I thought of the old post office for our public library. My answer was, an ideal building and location, and if it could be purchased for from sixty to seventy-five thousand dollars our city should buy it by all means for every successful city should have a modern library plant and this old post office building would do the trick. When I learned this property had been secured for $31,000 my remark was, our library board had simply robbed the government of this property at that price, for to my positive knowledge the land alone cost more than three times the price of $31,000 to say nothing of the building which in my judgment could not be replaced (even in its present condition) for $100,000. I think the library board has secured for the citizens of New Castle a wonderful bargain and our people should respond liberally in raising the necessary funds to complete this purchase and remodel the building for a modern library and public center for, say all women's clubs."

Is Bacon The Side Of A Hog Or May It Be A Porker's Jaw?

Experts From Packing House Differ With Webster On Meaning Of Word

Dictionaries were brought into play in the trial of pure food cases before Judge W. Walter Braham at court this week in an attempt to find out the meaning of "bacon".

There were cases against several grocers in which the Pure Food Department of Pennsylvania, alleged that misbranded bacon was being sold.

Most people think that they know bacon when they see it, and some whose olfactory senses are particularly keen, even claim to know bacon when they smell it frying, of course in somebody's kitchen.

Bacon on the hoof is supposed to exist in the sides of a hog, but there are other places from which bacon can be cut, according to the packers.

When Webster's big unabridged was lugged into court to get the proper definition of bacon, here is what was found: "Bacon—The back or sides of a pig, salted and smoked; formerly the flesh of a pig salted or fresh; pork."

The experts who came all the way from Chicago and other big packing centers, took exception to Noah Webster's definition of the great American dish.

They said the word "bacon" did not necessarily mean the sides of a hog, but that the term related to the method of curing the meat.

The meat which had been branded as bacon and sold by the grocers, had been taken from the jowls of the pig. Left you don't know in what part of a hog's anatomy the jowls are located, let Webster explain it.

"Joy-A jaw; the under jaw; a jawbone; the cheek" and there you are. The jaw or cheek, if properly cured, can be called bacon, according to the experts, since it is the curing, and not the part from which the meat is taken that counts.

This scientific exposition of bacon will probably be news to the porkers who always thought they carried their bacon in their sides.

When the cases came up for trial before Judge Braham, it was agreed by the defendants, that they would not ask for a jury trial, but would present their evidence and leave the matter entirely up to the court.

So the problem which Judge Braham must now decide is bacon the sides of a hog, or can the jowl be called bacon if it is cured like bacon, and tastes like bacon. Upon this decision rests the case of the pure food department.

Six Post Bonds For Appearance At Pittsburgh

Six Bradford Residents Post
Bonds Following Indictment At Erie, Pa.

FORMER BANKERS FACE CHARGES

(International News Service)
BRADFORD, Pa., Sept. 26.—Six of the 11 persons indicted by a federal grand jury at Erie Thursday in connection with the alleged embezzlement of approximately $1,300,000 from the Commercial National Bank here, appeared before U. S. Commissioner Elizabeth O'Mara today and posted bonds of $5,000 each to guarantee their appearance for trial in Pittsburgh. The trial date has not yet been announced.

Six Post Bonds

Those who appeared and posted bonds were:
John W. Becker, office manager for the Cunningham Natural Gas Corporation of Bradford.
Howard J. Benson, assistant trust officer of the bank.
Floyd R. Parmenter, trust officer of the bank, cashier and director.
Stanley B. Benton, note teller in the bank.
Hazel A. Benson, bank discount clerk.
Harold L. Miller, bank savings account teller.

Confer With Attorneys

Of the others indicted, John T. Cunningham, president of the gas corporation; W. Russell Hunnerford, gas corporation bookkeeper, and W. Alderson Lynch, a stenographer for the gas corporation, were reported conferring with their attorneys preparatory to filing their bonds. Such bonds will be presented, however, it was indicated, sometime today.

Mrs. Ella Elison McCaig, assistant bookkeeper and gas corporation typist, also indicted, was said to be in Buffalo, N. Y., where it is expected she will appear before the local United States commissioner and post the required bond.

Wilson R. Campbell, president of the Farmers' Mechanic bank of Path, N. Y., the other person indicted, was expected to post his bond with a commissioner in New York.

Various Charges

All were indicted by the federal grand jury at Erie yesterday morning following a long presentation of evidence by United States District Attorney Charles F. Uhl. They were cited on charges ranging from "using the mails to defraud," to "making false entries" and "embezzlement."

Cunningham, Hunnerford, Lynch, Mrs. McCaig, Becker, Campbell, Benson, Parmenter and Benton were specifically charged with "using the mails to defraud," to "making false entries" and "embezzlement."

Miss Benson was accused on 31 counts of "making false entries" and Harold L. Miller was charged on 10 counts with "embezzling monies, funds, credits" from the bank, and on eight additional counts for "making false entries."

Fake Entries

Stanley Benton was charged on other counts with "making false entries," Parmenter on another "false entry" charge, and Howard Benson on 31 other counts charging "false entry."

Indictment of the group yesterday climaxed a detailed investigation of a year by five federal agencies and one state department. All evidence gathered was personally presented to the federal jury by U. S. Attorney Uhl, and returned before Federal Judge R. M. Gibson. Bench warrants for the arrest of all were immediately sworn out. Today's posting of bonds followed.

Cashier Found Dead

During the investigation by the six governmental agencies, Frank W. Calkins, 47, assistant cashier, was found dead of carbon monoxide fumes in a garage. A coroner's jury found that Calkins had "probably" committed suicide. In addition to his bank connection, Calkins also held an important position with the gas corporation.

In September of 1935, Benson and Miller were arrested by federal authorities. Miller was charged with misapplication of more than $5,000 and with making false entries to the amount of $859,690, which amount was at least $170,000 more than the correct figure.

Both men were released by a federal commissioner a year ago under $5,000 bond apiece.

THE PARENT PROBLEM

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

OBESITY MATTER OF WILL.
MEDICAL SCIENCE warns us parents over forty to watch our waists. We endanger our health, they say, by putting on excessive weight.

Now most of us really know how to keep our weight down. Any well trained doctor can tell us if we don't—a few gland cases, perhaps, excepted. Despite what we know, we tend to eat too much of the fattening sort of foods. Our appetite gets the better of us—just as it gets the better of the drunkard.

So then in most instances it is not a matter of wisdom about foods, but a matter of cultivating a stronger will power. We don't like to admit it, but in the last analysis, it is a character problem; for a strong moral character pre-supposes a strong will power—ability to do what we know we ought to do.

Now you and I dare not be too cocky about the matter—I'm sure I mustn't, for I carry about a few superfluous pounds, not many—and I do enjoy my meals! Neither should my lean, slim friends banter their ones. Some of these lean persons don't have an appetite so irresistible; and their nutritive machinery may not work so efficiently; they may be of the slim type. They deserve no special credit. But I contend—to ease my own conscience, perhaps—that when we who are prone to fatness keep our weight down we can be proud of the achievement.

Girls Endanger Health

Many girls in their teens or twenties could afford to put on more weight; some seriously endanger their health by dieting, and at costly self-denial. Many a father and mother could afford to emulate their daughter. By doing so they would be healthier, and might make their family happier. I wonder how many parents fuss and fume about their daughter's dieting as an unconscious effort to justify their own excessive overweight!

The esthetic urge to youth for keeping slim is much more powerful than to middle-age. Nevertheless, many plump papas and mammas might well give some attention to this item, for their own personality and happiness.

For most of us parents over thirty-five or forty there is one inescapable fact: we can't have healthy, normal weight if we care to pay the price of self-discipline.

On Court House Hill

All the jurors in attendance at court this week have been excused. Another jury has been summoned for next week to try the remainder of the cases on the criminal trial list.

A write in attachment has been issued by J. R. and Alberta Summerville against Joseph Frenkel, in which the sheriff is directed to attach any money that may be due the defendant from the First National Bank of Lawrence county. The amount of the claim is $7,000.

Yesterday was "cider day" at the court house. A half barrel of the amber fluid left over from the corn roast at Willard Hall on Thursday evening was brought in and all of the five gallon water containers were filled with cider. There was plenty of drinking but everybody went home sober.

The Household Finance Company has issued a write of attachment against Helen F. and Charles C. Hunter in which the sheriff is directed to attach any money that may be due the defendants from Leola M. Gibson and Charles C. Hunter, executors in the estate of Maud Shaffer.

One of the farmers jurors attending court this week said that he has quite a problem on his hands. He has a big field of corn, and also a lot of little pigs. With corn selling at the present high price, he is trying to figure out which will be the more profitable, to sell the pigs now and the corn as soon as it is husked, or to keep the pigs and feed the corn to them, selling them when they get larger. Looks like a question for an expert.

Of local interest as applicable to drunken driving cases is a ruling by Judge M. A. Musmanno of Pittsburgh that it is not necessary to have a doctor's certificate that "a man is drunk," before returning an indictment against him for operating an automobile while under the influence of liquor. "The motor act specifically declares that it shall be unlawful to operate a motor vehicle while under the influence of liquor," he says. It does not state that the motorist must be in a state of alcoholic intoxication before the crime may be established.

Judge Musmanno's statement was made after the grand jury had refused to indict a man on the strength of a physician's statement that he was "not in a state of alcoholic intoxication."

NEW CASTLE DEFEATS YOUNGSTOWN 26 TO 6

THRILLING GAME GOES TO LOCALS

New Castle High "Red Hurricane" Marks Up Third Straight Victory Of Year; Mort, Mumford, Kominic And Vargo Lead Touchdown Parade; Ernest White Is Star In Youngstown East Lineup; DeCaprio Suffers Injured Neck; New Castle Leads In First Downs 12 To 8; Plenty Of Forward Passes Thrown; Steady March Produces First Touchdown; Crowd Of Over 6,000 Witnesses Game Under Lights.

Thrills and chills were in order last night at Taggart Stadium as New Castle High "Red Hurricane" football team hung a 26 to 6 defeat on a scrappy Youngstown East High eleven under the lights. The thrills were provided by Charles "Stormy" Mort, Dai Mumford, Eddie Vargo and Stan Kominic. The chills were provided through the efforts of the weatherman. A crowd of over 6,000 fans sat in on the battle. Ernest White, the colored speedster, provided the patrons with several exciting moments as he raced over for the Youngstown touchdown.

There were few dull moments last night. New Castle started right in at the bell and threw everything they had into the heat of the fray. A scrappy Youngstown band fought back with all they had, and for three periods succeeded in making it plenty tough for the Bridesburgers. In the fourth the Ohioans just about kept up, it being 12 to 8, with the "Canes" leading.

Passes Prove Undoing
Youngstown came here flaunting a forward passing attack and that is where they met their downfall. The visitors made four of the heaves, but five of the passes were caught by New Castle men and two of them were turned into touchdowns. In the final punt of the game came Domenick "Gabby" DeCaprio, the plunging fullback with an injured neck. This was the only serious injury of the game. A few turns by the Trainer Tom Lewis and DeCaprio it is hoped will be in shape for the Beaver Falls game next week.

Mort Goes Over
New Castle first touchdown of the evening came in the first few minutes of the opening quarter. Youngstown East kicked off to New Castle and Mumford took it on the New Castle 40-yard line. It was a steady 60-yard march down the old carpet of the greensward and Charles "Stormy" Mort was over from the 22-yard line after a beautiful cut back ending up by the youngster going around the left side of the line aided by fine blocking.

time-outs. Beck threw a pass intended for White and Eddie Vargo stepped into the path of the ball, gathered it in, on the New Castle 25-yard line and he didn't even wait for his interference and blockers to form, but away he sped like a young gazelle down the field. Several East High boys were dumped on the ground by blockers and Vargo scrambled over the line all out of breath, after a run of about 75 or 80 yards to provide more thrills for the fans in the dying moments of the game. There was just about a quarter of a minute left to play and just enough time to allow Dai Mumford to add another point on a placement kick and it was all over. New Castle 26-East 6.

In picking out the best performers we must turn to DeCaprio, Kominic, Mort and Leonard of the New Castle team, with Ernest White, Beck and Sandy the standout men for the East High team.

Beaver Falls Is Next For Locals

Beaver Falls high school football team coached by Frank "Tiger" Walton, former Beaver Falls and Pitt football star, will play New Castle high at Taggart field next Friday night, it was announced. The kickoff will be at 8 p. m.

Today the Beaver Fallians are playing the Schenley high team of Pittsburgh and hope to atone for that defeat handed them last night at Sharon.

Crowds Are Increasing At Football Contests

Looking over the crowd at Taggart Stadium Friday night when New Castle and Youngstown East tangled for four quarters on the velvet gridiron, one couldn't help but get the idea that the crowd showed an increase over a week ago and it apparently was larger than the first game.

Taking the first game figures as a comparison, when there were about 6,200 present, last night's crowd must have been crowding the seven thousand mark which is a crowd for any football game short of the big colleges.

At least two New Castle men have a prominent place in the official line of the Youngstown school. Edward Smith is the graduate manager of

Yanks Have Edge In Coming Series As Regards Hitting

By PAT ROBINSON
International News Service Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Sept. 26.—Measured by any yardstick, the Yanks outclass the Giants as hitters. From top to bottom, the Yanks are dynamite. Any one of them can break up a ball game with one smash at any time. Big innings are the rule rather than the exception with the Yanks.

The Giants rarely have big innings. They score the hard way—one at a time—and count on their pitching to stop the other fellows.

Over a season, the Yanks will out-hit the Giants by at least 20 points. But in doing a short series it's best to forget the averages and figure the hitters in relation to the type of pitching they may face.

Averages Mean Little
Average means little. It's more important to know whether an individual or a team is "hot" at a given time. For instance, Gehrig is hitting .354 for the season and DiMaggio .328 but in the last month Gehrig has averaged only .232 and DiMaggio .252.

World series history proves fine pitching will stop the best of hitting. Mathewson pitched three shutouts in one world series and in another Doc White, big Ed Walsh and Nick Altrock stopped Frank Chance's great Cubs side.

Hitters Are Busts
Some great hitters—notably Ty Cobb and Hans Wagner—have been terrible busts in the big show while ordinary hitters like Hank Gowdy, who hit more than 500 in one world series, play over their heads.

The Giants have only one man—Mel Ott—who is a constant home run threat. Being a putt hitter, Ott finds those close fences to his liking. But Bill Terry, who slugs a ball farther and harder, hits almost always down the long left center lane and rarely gets a homer, and is, therefore, not half the threat Ott is.

If the Yanks can handle these two hitters they will have the giant attack virtually stopped.

The giant flippers will, have a whole lineup to stop. Dicke, Gehrig, DiMaggio, Rolfe, Selkirk, Lazzeri, Crosetti and Powell are all long hitters and half of them are "pull" hitters.

Keep Them Low
If the Giants are foolish enough to pitch to either DiMaggio or Dicke high inside the cash cushions will have plenty of souvenirs to take home. But there's the rub—the Giants are low ball pitchers who are not likely to give the Yankee sluggers any fat ones to feed on.

Pitching, like weight on race horses—can bring two teams together. To illustrate what might happen: Jackson of the Giants is hitting .232 Rolfe of the Yanks .107. Offhand, you might say there could be no comparison between them. But—will Rolfe hit .310 against Hubbell and Co? and will the Yankee sluggers hold Jackson to his season's put mark?

Dickey Dangerous
The writer believes Big Dickey will be the most dangerous hitter in the Yankee line-up and that Joe Moore may be the surprise package in the Giant fold.

If the pitching happened to be ordinary on both sides, it would be no contest—the Yanks would bury the Giants. But the Giant pitching is more likely to be excellent for the first two games, at least and if it is the Yanks are not going to spray those stands with home runs.

At Latrobe, St. Vincent's opened impressively, downing Morris Harvey 26-0.

Rockets To Play
Other western Pennsylvania games today were California Teachers against Lock Haven at California, and Slippery Rock Teachers at West Chester.

Half a dozen games, following last night's 6-0 defeat of Ursinus by Bucknell, were to launch the gridiron season in central Pennsylvania.

At Huntingdon, Juniata and Drexel were meeting for their 13th game in opening contests of the year for both teams. Juniata was hoping for the "break" that would give the local school its first victory in the long series.

Dickinson and Moravian, playing on the former's field at Carlisle, and Franklin and Marshall and Albright, meeting at Lancaster, were the other major traditional rivals in the central area getting started this afternoon. Most eyes were on the F and M-Albright game because of last year's hard-fought contest that ended with Albright the victor by a 9-6 score.

Bucknell Wins
Bucknell, breaking through against Ursinus' stubborn resistance, scored in the final period but failed to add the after-touchdown point. Wildonger's punting repeatedly saved the Bison unit from Tomssett and Smith. Bucknell backs, ran and passed the ball to a touchdown in three flashing plays. Smith carried the ball across.

Temple's Owls racked up their second straight grid victory of the season in virtue of last night's easy win over Centre College, 50 to 7, before 15,000 persons in Temple stadium at Philadelphia.

COLOMBOS TO MEET
A meeting of the La Colombo football team will be held at the club rooms on Sunday night, it was announced today by Coach Lee Gairdo.

The following should report—Geno Scarranti, 124 103 139; S. Bullman, N. Gennock, C. Natale, S. Puccella, B. Foster, S. Copple, F. Copple, R. Cialella, L. Chirol, and L. George.

COLLEGE TEAMS GO INTO ACTION

(International News Service)

Having fused and sputtered through the past few weeks, the Pennsylvania football bomb exploded today as some 22 college gridiron teams clashed in opening games throughout the commonwealth.

Some half dozen squads jumped the gun with curtain-raiser last night.

Pitt Vs. Wesleyan
Attracting most interest in western Pennsylvania was the debut of the 1936 edition of Pittsburgh's Panthers. In meeting Ohio Wesleyan's Bishops at Pittsburgh, the Pitt aggregation was called upon to rough and tumble with one of the Buckeye State's best. All eyes in the district were on the veteran Jock Sutherland's eleven, believed by many to personify the "class" of the east.

Last night, 7,000 Pittsburghers saw Duquesne ring up the curtain on one of the toughest schedules in the college game.

They defeated Waynesburg's Yellow Jackets 14-0 in a manner to satisfy their followers. The downstate squad gave as much at it took, however, and only two lapses in defense, one in the second and another in the final period, gave Duquesne its win. George Platukis, junior wingman, took a 35-yard punt from halfback Dillon in the second stanza to draw first blood, and Vairo, right half, romped 7 yards to cross the goal to climax a 65-yard march.

At Latrobe, St. Vincent's opened impressively, downing Morris Harvey 26-0.

Rockets To Play
Other western Pennsylvania games today were California Teachers against Lock Haven at California, and Slippery Rock Teachers at West Chester.

Half a dozen games, following last night's 6-0 defeat of Ursinus by Bucknell, were to launch the gridiron season in central Pennsylvania.

At Huntingdon, Juniata and Drexel were meeting for their 13th game in opening contests of the year for both teams. Juniata was hoping for the "break" that would give the local school its first victory in the long series.

Dickinson and Moravian, playing on the former's field at Carlisle, and Franklin and Marshall and Albright, meeting at Lancaster, were the other major traditional rivals in the central area getting started this afternoon. Most eyes were on the F and M-Albright game because of last year's hard-fought contest that ended with Albright the victor by a 9-6 score.

Bucknell Wins
Bucknell, breaking through against Ursinus' stubborn resistance, scored in the final period but failed to add the after-touchdown point. Wildonger's punting repeatedly saved the Bison unit from Tomssett and Smith. Bucknell backs, ran and passed the ball to a touchdown in three flashing plays. Smith carried the ball across.

Temple's Owls racked up their second straight grid victory of the season in virtue of last night's easy win over Centre College, 50 to 7, before 15,000 persons in Temple stadium at Philadelphia.

COLOMBOS TO MEET
A meeting of the La Colombo football team will be held at the club rooms on Sunday night, it was announced today by Coach Lee Gairdo.

The following should report—Geno Scarranti, 124 103 139; S. Bullman, N. Gennock, C. Natale, S. Puccella, B. Foster, S. Copple, F. Copple, R. Cialella, L. Chirol, and L. George.

Minneapolis Faces Tough Afternoon At Washington U.

(International News Service)
SEATTLE, Wash., Sept. 26.—The Washington Huskies, pre-season favorites to win the Pacific Coast conference title, remained the underdogs for their important intercollegiate tilt against Minnesota here this afternoon, although the odds shortened to 7 to 6 shortly before the kickoff.

Ticket officials announced that approximately 42,000 fans would see the contest, the largest opening season crowd in Seattle's history.

Coach Jimmy Phelan said he hoped to shake his speedy backs into the open by use of a wide-open attack featuring a series of intricate forward and lateral pass plays.

Lois Cain, Haines and Novogorski, all veterans, will start in the Washington backfield. Haines is being heralded as the coast's leading potential all-American halfback.

Since going indoors with wrestling, warm weather has kept many fans away. However, as a sold spell has arrived and may continue, the promoter believes that this, plus a good looking main bout and newcomers, will be tendencies to increase the crowd.

The first bout will start at 8:30 p. m., and as usual the women folk, if accompanied by a male escort, will be granted free entry to the show. Some of them have been attending the grappling shows, and judging from their interest, like the sport.

Jess Willard, former world's heavyweight champion fighter, who will engage with Eddie Kappan of Pittsburgh in the restaurant business in Pittsburgh, visited Bob Laterra, local businessman yesterday.

Tigers Take Second Place

Detroit Remains Idle And Takes Firmer Grip On Second Money

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Sept. 26.—The baseball races have come to the point where there isn't even any doubt left about the leavings—meaning money to be cut up out of the world series among the clubs which finished behind the pennant-winners.

The Tigers, not quite good enough to retain their American league championship against the rush of the Yankees, will take second money in the American league with third still in doubt. The Senators virtually sewed it up Friday by beating the Red Sox 9 to 3 on Desha's eight-hit pitching, while the White Sox idled.

In other games the Browns beat the Indians 8 to 2 and then lost the nightcap of a double header, 7 to 6. The Yankees won their 100th game from the Athletics, 6 to 5, on Red Rolfe's homer in the 10th.

The Giants, new National league champions, led the Bees 3 to 2 with McCarthy's homer in the eighth with one on, and the Cards clinched National league second money by downing the Reds, 3 to 2.

Final Softball Game On Sunday

Radiators And Bonnetts Will Play At Rosena Furnace Field At 1 P. M.

The Lawrence county softball tourney will be brought to an end Sunday afternoon at the Rosena Furnace field at 1 o'clock, when the National Radiators will meet the Bonnetts.

The Radiators dusted off the B. V. M. team and the Park Gates of Ellwood City to reach the finals. The Bonnetts defeated the Shenanogs and Nobils on the way to the finals.

It is altogether likely that Manager Pomeroy will lead the Firemen-Bessemers to victory tomorrow, with Coach Andy "Early" Venditto probably using "Stubs" Dwyer or Sammy Pezzone.

Tourney Manager Walther has assigned the following men to umpire the important battle: Frank Isabella, Johnny Santangelo and Keith Van Fossan.

An effort is to be made to challenge the winners of the Mercer county tourney to a game either here or at Sharon, and also the Beaver and Butler county softball champions.

The game is being started at 1 o'clock out of courtesy to the Firemen-Bessemers baseball game at Lee avenue field. The fans can now see both games. The softball game is a seven inning game.

A big eighth inning when the Brewers pushed run runs across the plate, gave them the opening game of the series.

The Bisons used three pitchers in a futile attempt to stem the Brewers' Harris, Jacobs and Sewell. Forrest Pressnell relieved heaving on the mound for the Brewers, allowing but one hit in three and two-thirds innings and receiving credit for the victory.

Gulic smacked a home run for Milwaukee, Mulcahy and Boland one each for the Bisons.

Plan For Opening Of New Highway

Zelenople Will Sponsor Celebration Latter Part Of November

ZELIENOPLE, Sept. 26.—Plans are being made by the Perry Highway Road Association for the opening of the new part of the road here the latter part of November, the date having been set for November 28. Work on the new road, also the bridge here is being pushed and is progressing rapidly.

A fill has been made at the approach of the bridge on the Zelenople side in the past week, the piers have been built, they being large concrete piers, and the structural iron work is now being placed on the bridge. The retaining wall at the approach to the bridge is also being built at this time.

A celebration is planned for Zelenople, which will include program suitable for the occasion, with the governor of the state, commissioners and others invited to take part and then go to Wexford, following the formal opening here, and the new part of the Perry Highway there will be opened, also. These plans are tentative made by the committee at a recent meeting held in Pittsburgh. C. S. Passavant of this place is a member of the committee. The celebration will follow the local one at Highland school in Pittsburgh, and in the evening a banquet will be held at the Pines.

The grading of the road here has been completed, and cement has been poured on a part of the road from Zelenople one mile north. It is expected that the bridge will be ready for use by Thanksgiving and the road will also be completed by that time.

Relief Systems Will Be Studied In Six Counties

Six 'Test' Counties Set Up,
Begin Experiment With
Cash Relief System

BUTLER COUNTY
IS ONE INCLUDED

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, Sept. 26.—With six "test" counties set up, the commonwealth today began its experiment to determine how relief should be administered in Pennsylvania.

Following a meeting of the SERB yesterday all but two of the 24 members of non-partisan county boards to study the possibility of returning relief administration to local units were announced.

Better Understanding
Through their study and findings, it was pointed out, the commonwealth will have a better understanding as to how relief can be administered best. The choice lies in three directions:

1. Whether a centralized system, such as is in effect at present is best.
2. Whether a decentralized system would make administration more efficient and less costly.
3. Whether a combination of the two proposed methods would strike the long-sought medium.

The boards, according to the SERB, will consist of four members each two of whom were appointed by the Democratic members and two by the Republican members of that body.

The counties chosen for the experiment are Butler, Cumberland, Clarion, Carbon, Centre and Chester. Half of the Butler board remains to be selected, Republican members of the SERB having delayed their appointments.

"These boards," Gov. George H. Earle announced, "will have complete control of their respective counties. They will hire and fire their own personnel; they can use the present personnel; but they must understand that this matter must be kept entirely apart from politics."

No Deadline Set
Governor Earle explained that the boards whose members will serve without pay, will submit their budget to the SERB, which will make the allocations of funds, adding:

"We are setting no deadline for them to begin control of the county, not until they feel they can take it over should they do so."

The boards, it was pointed out, will have at their disposal all information and aid necessary from the SERB. It is what the administration learns from these boards, according to Governor Earle, that will determine to a great degree how relief in Pennsylvania will be administered in the future.

Action Regretted

Governor Earle also announced that, despite protests from medical groups and local agencies, medical aid to relief recipients must stop. "It is with greatest reluctance that we abandon medical relief," he said, "but we do not have the sufficient funds. The state expects to save $625,000 from October 1 to February 1 by this action."

To Extend Radio Show At Haney's

Fifteen-Foot Radio Arrives In City After Difficulties
In Transportation

Featured by the newest developments in the radio world, the annual radio show of Haney's, on the Diamond, is attracting unusual interest.

The show opened Thursday, but several of the important features did not arrive in time for the opening, due to no fault of the Haney Company. The huge 15 foot Philco radio, the largest in the world, could not be trucked here because it was too big for road clearance, and state highway patrolmen forced the truckers to take it back to Cleveland, where it was finally dismantled and shipped here in pieces. The radio has been installed and is now in operation.

The show is featured by the display of over a hundred different models, from the smallest to the 22-tube radio which has an attachment for recording and broadcasting one's own voice.

Attendance at the show is expected to be heavy on Saturday.

WASHINGTON AT A GLANCE

Added Farm Aid Seems Certain

Both Parties Are Strongly
In Favor Of Aiding
American Farmer

TENANT FARMER
WILL BENEFIT

Central Press
Washington Bureau
602 Times-Herald Bldg.
By CHARLES P. STEWART
Central Press Staff Writer.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 26.—Whether President Roosevelt is re-elected or Governor Landon wins, the improvement of American agriculture's lot evidently will be one of the chief concerns of the national administration during the ensuing four years.

And for many years thereafter—but the long-time policy will be given form in the course of the next session of congress.

Crop insurance is a very complicated subject. Presidential advisers are wrestling with it now. Just what sort of a plan finally will be hit on is problematic, and even then something else finally may be adopted.

Soil conservation is another puzzle.

It is easy enough to say that the soil ought to be conserved but how to persuade or coerce all farmers into conserving it is a question over which planners are having plenty of trouble.

ENDING TENANCY

Ending farm tenancy, however, is a mere matter of money. Tenants have to be financed in such fashion as to enable them to acquire title to their acres. It will take a deal of credit, to be sure; only the government has enough of it. Still, in the end the undertaking will be self-liquidating. The purchasing farmers themselves will foot the bill by degrees.

It will take each of them 30 or 40 years, paying off principal and interest. In the meantime, however, the erstwhile tenancy will have security of tenure and be building up an equity in the land it tills, terminating ultimately in ownership, at least to be bequeathed to its children.

And permanency, leading to ownership, will go far toward guaranteeing soil conservation.

An owner or prospective owner naturally has an interest in keeping his soil fertile; he does not have to be hired or blackjacked into doing it.

TO LIQUIDATE BURDEN

This class of capital should be delighted by any plan which liquidates its burden.

I am not so sure of southern farm tenancy.

They are growing together gradually, however.

If every woman knew what every widow knows, every man would carry adequate so. A tenant's only interest, just as naturally, is to get all he can out of the ground he is renting. What does he care how badly depleted he leaves it on his landlord's hands? after over-cropping and under-fertilizing it.

BANKHEAD'S EFFORTS

Senator John H. Bankhead of Alabama pre-eminently has been prominent in the campaign to substitute farm ownership for farm tenancy.

The senator is from an area where tenancy is at its worst—the southern region of share-cropping. A share-cropper is a tenant, but a tenant is not necessarily a share-cropper. A tenant who pays his rent regularly is his own boss; a share-cropper is bossed by his landlord—it is charged that he virtually is a peon in many instances.

A rent-paying tenant, for example, can cultivate his individual vegetable garden, keep his individual cow and pigs and hens, set his individual table, reduce his living costs to a minimum.

A share-cropper's landlord is likely to prohibit the diversion of no square foot of his soil and not an ounce of his tenant's labor from production of the particular crop that the landlord shares in. In order to produce, the tenant has to live, it is true. The landlord may have to help him to do it—but on the latter's terms. The crop division having been effected, it's quite possible that the tenant will owe money to the landlord.

FROM SLAVERY DAYS

In Dixie this system dates from slavery days. Senator Bankhead wants to put a stop to it.

The complaint of his program is that it may enable landowners to unload its holdings at excessive prices.

That is arguable.

IN THE NORTH

In the north the farm tenant is more a plain tenant, rather than a share-cropper.

Yet he is discontented. In his early days, growing up in the northwest, a "farmer" meant the owner of a farm. Two or three years ago, revisiting my old home town, after a lapse of 40 years, I found more than 50 per cent of the farmers to be tenant farmers.

Farmers always have been cranky, but landlords never were radical. These tenants were—very.

WORLD WAR INFLATION

Landlordism in states like Iowa did not result from the Civil war, it resulted from the World war.

World war prices for American crops were so high that farmers, thinking such prices would last forever, overencumbered themselves, since when they have not been able to meet their obligations—of course, foreclosures have followed.

Hence farm tenancies. The foreclosing insurance companies and savings banks haven't had any option. They have not wanted the land; they wanted their money. They have been crimped, some of them, from being compelled to take land for less than they loaned on it.

TO LIQUIDATE BURDEN

This class of capital should be delighted by any plan which liquidates its burden.

I am not so sure of southern farm tenancy.

They are growing together gradually, however.

If every woman knew what every widow knows, every man would carry adequate

May Complete Improvement Of Cascade Street

Supplementary Project Is Before W. P. A. For Approval At Present

After a long period of agitation to put Cascade street into shape where it could be used for motor travel in safety, a supplementary project has been started through WPA channels. The new project calls for the drainage, curbing and black topping the street from East Washington street to Croton avenue.

Back in the days of the RWD the street was made a project and in the winter of 1934-35 it was reduced to grade, a stone base put down and limestone screenings rolled on top. The street was not drained and no binder was put on top with the result that the wind, the rain and the frost tore the street to ribbons.

For the past year it has been the worst street in the city, travel over it has been hazardous and another winter's frost in it would probably ruin all the work that has been done.

The project has been forwarded from city hall to the county office of the WPA. By Tuesday of next week it should clear the county office to the district office in the old postoffice building. From there it will go to Harrisburg and then to Washington. This will get it back to New Castle with approval by about the middle of November.
